

CCED217 Young Child With Special Needs

1. To become familiar with the range of disabilities and conditions affecting children to be prepared in meeting the needs of children and families.
2. To recognize diversity in families to understand the importance of family influence, home language and culture in the development of trusting relationships with families.
3. To examine the history of the field of special education in regards to the changing laws, practices and standards.
4. To review assessment instruments to design appropriate curriculum and report progress to families.
5. To develop an understanding of how professionals work in teams to assist families to transition their children into the appropriate service setting.