Students from Boston Higashi School and Pappas Rehabilitation Hospital for Children featured at Massasoit's Akillian Gallery in Canton

Abled Eleven is filled with imaginative and observationally inspired works by students from the Boston Higashi School, in Randolph and the Pappas Rehabilitation Hospital for Children, in Canton. This exhibition recognizes not only the creative energy of these young artists facing challenges, but preserves the vision of former Massasoit professor Laura Yellen, for her dedication and voice on behalf of students and their "abilities". The exhibit is displayed through November 9.

Join us Wednesday, November 7th, noon to 12:45 PM, as we host a Lunch & Learn Gallery Talk. Art teachers from both facilities will talk about their school's exhibit, followed by an open discussion and Q&A opportunity. with instructors and facility administrators, and invited Massasoit staff and faculty. The take-away will be a closer awareness of art as therapy, as well as an opportunity for students to learn about this specialized profession. This a Bring Your Own Lunch, dessert will be served. The public is invited to this free event.

The Akillian Gallery, Massasoit Community College, 900 Randolph St., Canton. Hours are Monday through Friday, 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM, and by appointment. Calling ahead is recommended as there may be restrictions due to scheduled events. Call 508-588-9100, x2124. (in Canton) www.massasoit.edu/akilliangallery.
