

Massasoit Community College Ink Monkeys to Participate in In Owls Live! Festival at The Museum of American Bird Art at Mass Audubon

March 7, 2014

Canton, MA— On Saturday March 15th come and enjoy the wonders of owls as the Museum of American Bird Art hosts their popular Owls Live! Festival. Learn about owls with live presentations, games, and art activities for the whole family. Activities include sculpting miniature owl finger puppets out of clay, owl cookie decorating, face painting, and story telling. Massasoit College's costumed "Ink Monkeys" will be operating their printing press and each child will have the opportunity to ink and take home their own owl print! For the adventurous, there is an Owl Quest to take you outdoors, following a set of clues across the fields and into the owl woods. Drop in any time on Saturday for Owls Live!, the museum is located on Washington Street in Canton directly across from Canton High School. The cost of admission is $5 per person and all ages are welcome. All ticket sales provide critical support for summer camp programs.

The Museum of American Bird Art at Mass Audubon is a professional art museum within New England's largest conservation organization, connecting people and nature through art. Exhibitions feature art by internationally recognized artists inspired by nature. Located on a 121-acre wildlife sanctuary just south of Boston, the museum is home to Mass Audubon's extensive art collection, which is shared with the public through exhibitions and a wide variety of education programs for all ages.

Founded in 1966, in the heart of southeastern Massachusetts, Massasoit Community College is a public two-year college in the Massachusetts Public Higher Education System. It is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC), one of the six regional accrediting bodies in the United States. Many departments carry additional accreditations. The College offers a full spectrum of associate's degree programs in arts, sciences, and applied sciences as well as one year and short term certificates across a variety of occupations and interests. In addition the College offers corporate and job skills training courses.
